

2018 SPRING WORKSHOPS

Each spring FONCPL sponsors a series of five free area workshops sited around the state to assist local Friends of the Library groups. This spring, we are planning a stellar group of workshops and hoping you will attend one of them at a location and date convenient for you.

This is a chance to "recharge" your local Friends group with new information, networking, and a chance to share your good ideas with others who might benefit from what you have accomplished. There will be opportunities to discuss successes, special programs, possible new funding sources, increased book sale revenues, and much more. You will also learn about the FONCPL Frances B. Reid and Frannie Ashburn awards, which give cash back to the winning Friends groups.

So that we can ensure there are enough spaces available for all, we would appreciate your early registration. Most begin at 10 AM and end at 1 PM, but please verify times for your specific workshop with the appropriate contact person. Confirmation with details will be sent upon receipt of registration.
